To the DAILY GAZETTEER.

SIR,

HE miserable Faction which Caleb D'Anvers continues to drudge for, are now so well known, that it would be impertinent to go about to describe them. If they were not as stupid as they are insolent, they would themselves thrash a Fellow, that should dare to impose such gross Falsities upon them, in both Fact and Argument, as in his Craftsman of the 27th of August; where he roundly charges all the Writers on the Side of the Constitution, with being just such Profligate Traitors to it, and Hireling Prostitutes, as was the execrable Roger L'Estrange; who had actually been condemn'd to be hanged, and of whom a Noble Lord said in the House of Peers, that he deserved to be hanged for his villainous Writings. D'Anvers more than insinuates that those Writers have no more Reason to speak of the Present, as the best of Governments, best of Kings, best of Ministers, than Roger had to use those Phrases, in the most detestable Period of English Slavery, at the latter End of the Reign of Charles II.

LET us take a short View of it, as referred to in the Craftsman, by his Quotations out of L'Estrange's Observations. Five or Six Instances of the Tyranny of that Time will be sufficient to direct the Reader in making a Judgment of the Deserts of such a desperate Libeller, for his wicked, false, and odious Comparisons.

IN the Year 1683, Charles II. by his Emisaries, violently invaded the Rights and Privileges of the Citizens of London, and forced upon them two Sacrifices, North and Rich, and a Lord-Mayor, Pritchard, to prepare the Way for the ensuing Murders. The same Year, to make sure and quick Work, he took away the Charter of that City, the Bulwark of English Liberty, when in good Hands.

He turned out the Recorder of London, and Eight worthy Aldermen, to make Room for Tools for his Purpose.

THE City of London, says Echard, was subdu'd, and forced to submit to the King's Pleasure. He speaks of it as a Conquest, and a Town destined to Pillage and Destruction.

Alderman Pilkington was fined 100,000 l. to the Duke of York, afterwards James II. for speaking an Avowed Truth of him.

John Dutton Colt, Esq; was fined 100,000 l. to the same just and generous Person, for speaking a like Truth of him.

Lord Chief Justice Pemberton was turned out, and Jefferies, who says Bishop Burnet, was scandalously vicious, made Chief Justice, to butcher the Great and Immortal Sidney, as D'Anvers styles him.

THE truest and noblest Patriot that ever asserted the Cause of Liberty, the most pious and beloved Lord Russel, was murdered by corrupt Judges, Jury, and Council.

THERE'S no need of any more of it; these were the Times which D'Anvers falsely and seditiously compares to the present; tho' the Tyranny the People of England then groan'd under, has rendered every Name that was concern'd in it, so infamous, that the Repetition is shocking. I will only add a Line or two out of Dr. Welwood's Memoirs: The Scatter'd Remains of English Liberty were then attacked on every Side; and some of the noblest Blood in the Nation was offer'd up a Sacrifice to the Manors of Popish Martyrs; Swearing came into Fashion, and an Evidence-Office was erected in Whitehall. Instead of Judges and Juries that might boggle at Half Evidence, such were pick'd out as should stick at Nothing to serve a Turn.

THESE Tyrannical and Bloody Practices, were not only vindicated but applauded by L'Estrange, as the best of Governments, best of Kings, best of Ministers. Thus, according to D'Anvers, the Modern Writers now say, Ours is the best of Governments, &c. Roger L'Estrange's Plea, quoth he, is just like that of our Modern Scribblers. Our Government, founded in and supported by Revolution Principles, is, in Caleb's Comparison, exactly the same as that in the Days of the Oxford Decree, and Addresses of Abhorrence.

Our Sovereign, who exerts no Power, who covets no Power but the Laws, is, according to D'Anvers, exactly the same with King James, who broke them, and dispensed with them at Pleasure. Our Judges, the most Just and Mild that ever sat on a Bench, are, with him, exactly the same, as Whitens, Jenner, Alibone. Our Chancellors, Talbot and Hardwick, idolized for their Equity, Wisdom, Integrity, and all other Illustrious Qualities, Ornaments to so high a Station, are, in Caleb's abusive Comparison, the same with Jefferies, who was doubtless the greatest Scoundrel that ever had a Judge's Gown upon his Back: And this Jefferies was one of Roger's best of Ministers.

ALL this must be true, if the Writers for our present happy Constitution are as much in the Wrong, for calling ours the Best of Governments, Best of Kings, Best of Ministers, as Roger was, in so calling Government, King, and Ministers, in his, the very worst of Times.

I SHALL not follow him in his dull, perplexed Definition of a Libel. He has had it explained to him once already at Westminster-Hall, and he is in a fair Way to have it explained to him there again: And whatever is his Fate, he will certainly be the less pity'd, for that he has declar'd, that what would be Disgrace to a wiser Man, will be a Triumph to him; for which, consequently, no Body will have any Reason to grieve, while he himself glories and rejoices in it: he having confin'd all the Merit he has in the World to his being convicted and punished for Falshood and Scandal. Which brings to my Memory an Incident at our School, so long ago as when I was a Boy.

OUR Master having a pretty large School, took a great deal of Pride in having a long Train of Scholars after him to Church on Festival-Days, and several of the Boys, whose Parents were Dissenters, us'd to go with him on such Occasions: But one of them happening not only to be absent but to have robbed an Orchard in Church-Time, upon Complaint he was, the next Day, taken to Task. Our Master ask'd him, Why he was not at Church? He said, His Conscience would not let him. Ay but, says the Master, Your Conscience would let you rob an Orchard in Church-Time: So he was hors'd. He took no Notice of the Robbery, but insisted on the Delicacy of his Conscience, which would not permit him to assist at Church Service; and when the Discipline was over, he blubber'd and cry'd, as he was putting up his Breeches, Blessed are those that are persecuted for Righteousness Sake.

Caleb's Case is exactly the same with this Boy's: He has brought himself into Peril, by publishing Libel after Libel, till he is like to come to a Reckoning for it, in Person or by Proxy; and he declares beforehand, that the Execution of the Law upon him, which he terms Suffering or Persecution, without taking the least Notice of the Libel, and Sedition, will entitle him to the Blessedness promised to such as suffer for Righteousness Sake; he says, for the Cause of Liberty, which is certainly a righteous Cause, if ever there was one.

WHEN he comes to sum up the Comparison between the Tyranny vindicated by Roger L'Estrange, and the Revolution-Government vindicated by the Modern Writers, he asserts, in Defiance of all Truth and Modesty, to both which he is a Stranger or an Enemy, That the Opposition to the Tyrannous Proceedings in Charles the Second's Reign, was of the same Kind with the frantick Opposition in these our Days. It was branded with the Name of Faction, and imputed to Malice, Envy, and Disappointed Ambition. Prodigious Effrontery! Were ever the Lord Russel, Col. Sidney, Mr. Powle, Mr. Sacheverel, Mr. Hampden, Mr. Boscawen, Sir William Jones, &c. charg'd with Malice, Envy, and Disappointed Ambition? Did the mercenary L'Estrange ever once speak of them as Malicious, Envious, Interested, or Revengeful? They show'd themselves in all their Speeches, and all their Actions, to have nothing at Heart but the Preservation of the Protestant Religion and Liberty. They were Patriots indeed; Men of Solid Sense and Virtue. Their Enemies who hated them and the more, the more they deserved to be and were beloved, never charged them with acting out of Resentment for Loss of, or Disappointment in, Court

Preferment; and their Enemies had as much Malice, as much Inveteracy, and almost as much Rage, as our Craftsmen and Common Sensemen, against the true Lovers of the Commonwealth. Would Lord Russel, Col. Sidney, &c. have enter'd into a League, or indeed into any Kind of Commerce, with a known Traitor to his Country, with Apostates from their Religion, with Men of no Principles or Morals, purely to distress a Government under which the Nation was happy and flourishing, only because Place was not made for them in it? I do verily believe, that Lord Russel, Col. Sidney, and the glorious Patriots before-mentioned, would as soon have associated with a Whore as a Gambol, in any Cabal, or Private Practice whatsoever: And I dare say, there is not an honest Man in the Kingdom, who knows any Thing of the Men and Matter, but is of the same Opinion. Which is humbly recommended to Squire D'Anvers, and Mr. Common Sense, for their serious Reflections, and an Encouragement to continue their laudable Endeavours, to make as many of their Fellow-Subjects as they can miserable, by blinding their Understandings, poisoning their Minds, and depriving them of the Happiness which the rest, and sound Part, of the Nation enjoy, under the Best of Governments, Best of Kings, and Best of Ministers.

Vitenna, Sept. 4. N. S.

LETTERS from the Imperial Army relate, that Count Seckendorff had ordered Count Murully, who commands at Belgrade, to provide 40000 Rations of Bread, 20000 Rations of Oats, for 14 Days together, and 3000 Waggon's at Zabatz upon the River Save: It is said that Count Kevenhuller and Count Wallis will keep Widdin blockaded, and that General Seckendorff and Prince Hildburghausen will make the Siege of Zwornick in Bosnia, and endeavour to subdue that Province entirely, in order to procure Winter Quarters there for the greatest Part of the Army.

A curious Statue of Sir Hans Sloane, Bart. carved out of a Block of white Marble is now completed by Mr. Rysbrack of Oxford Road, and next Week is to be erected on a Pedestal 8 Foot high in the Physick Garden at Chelsea. On the Pedestal is the following Inscription, viz.

Sir Hans Sloane, Bart.
Physician to his Majesty,
President

Of the Royal College of Physicians,
And Royal Society;
Who, that the Knowledge of Plants
Might be preserved and improved,
Gave this Ground

In the Year of our Lord 1721,
To the Company of Apothecaries, London,
To be a Physick Garden for Ever.

THEY

Being sensible how necessary

That Branch of Science is,

To the faithful discharging the Duty of their Profession,

With grateful Hearts,

And general Consent,

Ordered this Statue to be erected

Dr. ROBERT EATON'S

BALSAMICK STYPTICK.

Truly prepared and sold at the Doctor's late Dwelling House, now Mr. DUTTON's in Salisbury Court, Fleet-street.

THIS Medicine restrains in a most surprising Manner, all internal as well as external Hemorrhages, i. e. it infallibly and quickly stops all dangerous Bleedings at the Nose or Gums, spitting or vomiting Blood; also the immoderate Flux of the Hemorrhoids or Menstrues, bloody Urine or Stools, bleeding of large Wounds, &c. (if used according to the plain Directions given with it) as will appear by the Certificates of several Eminent Physicians, and in the large Account of this Medicine, written by the Doctor himself, and dedicated to the College of Physicians, a little before his Death.

It keeps good for many Years, at Sea or on Shoar, at Home or Abroad, i. e. in all Climates, therefore must be universally Useful.

The Doctor not only obtained his Majesty's Letters Patent for the sole Vending of this most Excellent Medicine; but also a Clause in a late Act of Parliament, exempting this Medicine from the Inspection of the Censors of the College of Physicians, to which all other Medicines are liable.

N. B. Some of the Apothecaries prepare a Styptic from a Prescription of Helvetius, and use it in the Room of Dr. EATON'S; but whoever tries both, will soon be persuaded that Our's exceeds their's in all Respects, in a most eminent Degree.

S. Id. by Licence, at Garraway's Old Shop, Practical Scheme, at the Royal Exchange; Mr. R. Bradshaw's Warehouse behind the Royal Exchange; Mr. John Potter, Chymist, in Bartholomew Close; Mr. William Evans, Bookseller, in Bristol; Mr. Hammond, Jun. Bookseller, at York; Mr. Roe, Bookseller, in D-rby; Mr. Raiks, Printer, in Gloucester; Mr. Dicey, Printer, in Northampton; Mr. Thomas Greenhill, Mercer, at Bath; Mr. Abree, Printer, at Canterbury; Mr. Howard, an Apothecary, at Kidderminster; Mr. Trobridge, a Shopkeeper, in Exeter; Mr. Hallifax, an Apothecary, at Brackley; Mrs. Unett, a Bookseller, at Wolverhampton; and Mr. Bryan, a Printer, at Worcester.

Whereas many Inconveniences have attended the former manner of supplying the Kingdoms of England and Wales with Pyrmont Water; particularly, the Water frequently lay long in the Merchants Hands, and afterwards being conveyed to England, and afterwards longer in the Possession of the Sellers in London before sold: so that sometimes, before it came to the Drinkers Hands, it would be a Year old, or upwards. Moreover I have detected Persons filling Bottles (marked with a Star, like those in which I used to fill the Pyrmont Water) at a common Spring, in order to transport and impose thereupon the Publick, for the true Waters of Pyrmont. And further, to my certain Knowledge, great Quantities of these Waters were purposely filled in this Country, and imported Year on the Publick designedly, by some Traders in England, in order to prejudice this Fountain, and to the Disappointment and Disaffection of the Drinkers. And on the other hand, being well assured of the Integrity of Mr. EYRE, from his conveyer of all Mineral Waters to their Britannick Majesty, and being an Eye-Witness of the Improvements he has made in filling these Waters, whereby they are now transported in greater Perfection: Therefore I do appoint him, jointly with my Brother JOHN HENRY REISENER, to transport from England and Ireland the said Waters, which shall be them from time to time, and be sold by them only, or by such as they shall appoint, by which Method the Dominions of his Britannick Majesty will be constantly supplied with PYRMONT WATER, and the foregoing Inconveniences be in some measure prevented: And for a further Caution, all the Bottles filled with the said Water will have the Arms of his Highness the Prince of Waldeck impressed on the Back agreeable to a Patent granted them by his Highness for that Purpose; and all such are not thus marked, agreeable to the above Impression, are not to be depended on to be the true Waters of Pyrmont.

Pyrmont, Mar. 30. CHRISTIAN-ULRICH REISENER, Master of the Pyrmont Wells.

THESE are to certify, That Messrs. JOHN HENRY REISENER and HENRY EYRE have caused to be filled, in their Presence, 34,113 Bottles of Pyrmont Water, which Water was filled in a good Season, and when it was in its utmost Perfection, and was corked, wired down, and secured by an excellent Composition, after an improved Method.

D. JOHN PHILIP SEIS, General and Physician to his Highness the Prince of Waldeck at Pyrmont.

Pyrmont, May 26. 1737. N. S.

These WATERS are sold at Mr. EYRE'S Mixed Water-Warehouse, near Temple-Bar.

Where also are constantly sold the following Mineral Waters, viz.

SPA, BORNE, BATH, SCAR-
SELTERS, HOLT, BRISTOL, BORO

N. B. Mr. EYRE employs his whole Time in attending and filling the several Waters, particularly those of Pyrmont Spa.

ANTI-SYPHILICON.

THE only short and most infallible Cure in the Universe for the Venereal Disease, from the slightest Infection to the most extreme and deplorable Degree of it, even when the Blood and Juices are so roughly contaminated with its malignant Virus, and the very Bones are affected with it.

Fresh Infections, call'd CLAPS, with all their attendant Symptoms, tho' ever so severe, are entirely cured off in a few Days, and so as effectually to prevent the Blood and Juices from being tainted with any remaining Relics on one Hand, or a seminal Gleet or Weakness to happen on the other.

And the most inveterate Degree of the French Ulcer, attended with Nocturnal Pains, universal Breakings out, and all the other most exasperated Symptoms, are soon overcome by it; and effectually and much more safely cured than by Salivation, Iunigation, or any other Method whatever, and in so easy and pleasant a Manner, without impairing Strength, or occasioning any Inconvenience, as to bespeak it the only apposite Remedy or true Venereal Antidote in the World; and this some Thousands have to their great Joy experienced.

It is pleasant to take, occasions no Sickness or Discomfort, nor requires Confinement; but may be taken, and the Cure be accomplished, without the Knowledge of the nearest Friend.

Those who suspect they have received an Injury, may by only a Dose or two of it, be perfectly freed from all Apprehensions; for it suffers no lurking Venom to lie hid in the Body, but wholly extirpates it Root and Branch, in a gentle, easy, and most effectual Manner.

All such likewise as doubt they have some remaining Relics of former Injuries, may by a few Doses of it entirely free themselves from all Suspicion of that Kind; for it admits of no Foulness, Corruption, or Putrefaction whatever, to remain in the Fluids, or to adhere to the Solids, and on that Account, in all scorbatick, serophuleous, and even venereal Eruptions or Foulnesses of the Skin, Glandulous Swellings and Impurities of the Juices, it does more by one Day than any other Medicine yet known can by ten.

The Price of this most Noble ANTI-SYPHILICON is but Six Shillings a Pot, which, considering its extraordinary efficacy, one Pot only being sufficient in most Cases to accomplish the Cure, is not a tenth Part of its Value; and is appointed by the Author to be had only at Mr. BARNARD's Toyshop, at the Rose and Crown against St. Clement's Church-Yard in the Strand, ready sealed up with a Book of Instructions, by the Perusal of which, all Persons who were ever affected with any Degree of the Venereal Disease, may perfectly understand their own Condition, and certainly know when, and when not, the Venereal Poison is intrinsically rooted out of their Bodies.

Note, Ask only for a Six Shilling Pot for the Scoury.
